

FREE SUPPORT for PARENTS

“Good early education can impart skills that last a lifetime — patience, discipline, manners, perseverance.”

-David Leonhardt, “The Case for $320,000 Kindergarten Teachers,” New York Times.

Research shows that teaching social-emotional skills in early childhood leads to greater success later in life. The Early Childhood Consultation Partnership is a state-funded prevention service available for free to Colchester parents with a child in preschool/daycare to help with:

- Behavior and impulse control
- Making friends, developing empathy and kindness
- Handling separation anxiety
- Establishing family rules and routines
- Or any other social or emotional concern

If your child has been struggling at school and/or at home , or if you simply would like some individualized attention and suggestions to help identify and support your child’s strengths, give us a call! You can get ideas over the phone, OR arrange for a consultant to meet with you and your child’s teacher to develop strategies to make his/her early childhood experience a positive and happy one! For further information, please contact:
